It was my birthday last Thursday when I decided to celebrate it by inviting a few friends out to supper. I chose a restaurant in a quiet part of the town. It was one of my favorite restaurants because the food was good and the waiters were friendly. It was hardly ever crowded. However, because few people knew about it so it was not usually necessary to book a table. In any case, Thursday wasn't a busy evening as a rule.

When we went, I was surprised to find it full. There wasn't an empty place. One of the waiters tried to explain, "A party of tourists came and it was like an invasion." Then the waiter pointed to a table in the corner and told us that they were about to leave. He was right, the people paid their bill and left. We went and sat down. Unfortunately, our table was almost out of sight. We tried to attract the waiter's attention, but in vain because all the waiters were busy with the tourists. They ordered enormous quantities of food. At last they finished their meal. At that time, the waiter, who was very tired, appeared at our table. I ordered some special dishes which I recommended to my friends.

A few moments later, the waiter came back and from the expression on his face we could tell that he was carrying some bad news. Full of apologies, he informed us that there was no meat or fish left. "All we can offer you is an omelet." he said.
